UNCLE DAN from DOOLIE says:

Dear Mister Editor:
 I reckon we had what them Congressmen would call a full blaster at the country store Saturday night. Ed Doolie took the floor and it was hard to get him to stop. But it is to give Senator Morse to shut up.
 First off, Ed was upset over reading in the papers where Senator Gruening of Alaska got up in the Senate the other day and give a commercial for his new state. He announced that men was outnumbering women in Alaska by 22,567 as of now and advised women to hurry to Alaska afore the gap closed.
 Clew Webster allowed as how they used the Senate for everything else and he didn't see nothing wrong with Senator Gruening trying to get rid of the bachelors in Alaska. He recollects when Senator Byrd of Virginia got up in the Senate and give a recipe for apple pie, advising that nothing but Virginia apples was fitten for the best pies. Furthermore, claimed Senator Byrd even had the recipe printed in the Congressional Record. Anyhow, allowed Clem, bachelors ain't no good for raising large families and we got to keep large families coming along to meet the tax load. Come to think about it, it was a mighty patriotic thing for Senator Gruening to get up in the Senate and advertise the shortage of women.
 Bug Hookum was lamenting it was a great pity them Senators didn't operate during the winter when the shortage of women in Alaska and apple pie in Virginia and less time on stock piling and foreign aid. Bug said it would save the taxpayers billions.
 Zeke Grubb, who is a authority on women, put the lid on this subject by claiming it was a dead issue by now anyhow. Zeke reckoned that 24 hours after the Senator's announcement Alaska was stampeding with women.
 Another item Ed claimed up to him a bit was that piece in our latest pamphlet from the Department of Agriculture announcing some college was giving watermelon vines that would grow six or eight miles to the vine like tomato vines. Ed claimed the college was already overstocked with watermelons and afore we knew it the taxpayers would be paying millions for getting the surplus.
 All the fellers was agreed that folks would have more peace of mind if the Department of Agriculture would quit putting out any more pamphlets till we get the New Frontier better explored. For instead, Ed claimed he was reading a piece about a Cannibal Chief in Laos setting along in a pot where he was getting a victim ready for the pot. Ed allowed how the piece said the Chief was reading a U. S. Department of Agriculture pamphlet, "100 Ways to Serve Mankind."
 Yours truly,
 Uncle Dan

Clewiston, a charter member of the Suncoast Conference, will remain in the league rather than dropping out after the foot ball season, it was announced at the annual fall meeting of conference principals and coaches last Saturday.

Because the Clewiston athletics leaders were opposed to a round-robin basketball schedule as overly demanding for the season, they told of tentative plans for the school's exit at the league's June meeting when the schedule was adopted. But Saturday in a tense letter to the conference, Principal James Brandon said the Hendry County School Board has agreed that the Tigers should stay in the organization.

Bulk of the meeting was devoted to extended discussion of recommendations on officiating and the impending statewide reclassification of schools which is due to be effected late in the year. Varsity football games will start at 8 p. m. this year, 15 minutes earlier than in previous years, it was announced. For the first time, all championship trophies have been secured in advance and were displayed. Next meeting was slated in Vero Beach December 1.

Area Churches Join Drive For Clothing

Twelve member Churches of the Belle Glade Area Ministerial Association have joined in a common effort to secure used clothing via a sustained drive of their combined memberships. The Ministerial Association, after consultation amongst civic leaders and themselves, concluded that with several drives annually calling for clothing for various uses, the various needs might best be met by a combined effort, allotting two-thirds of the proceeds to the local needs of the migrant population through the Chamber of Commerce distribution facility, and one-third to the United Clothing Appeal of the churches, a facility of Church World Service, that sends the clothing after processing all around the globe.

The date of the drive, including both local and other needs, is September 15th through September 30th. The individual Churches will place boxes in prominent places for the collection, enabling their respective members to deposit clothing as they come to worship or at any other convenient time during the 15 day drive. Since the clothing that is to be sent overseas requires money to process and ship, anyone who wishes to contribute any small amount of money along with their clothing donation will be gratefully received.

The public is urged to seriously and prayerfully consider this real need, both for the community and the beyond, as a part and parcel of their charity and witness. Though the pictures of homeless and hungry and cold refugee children over the world are common in our papers and magazines, it starts some to realize that each night, right now, in Belle Glade, there are those who are in no better state of life.

Those who desire further information are urged to contact their own clergy, who will be glad to help them towards the effective work of this combined effort to secure some small measure of aid and comfort to the less privileged at the same time affording an opportunity for all for this work of mercy.

Other things she took note of was the bad roads in Louisiana, the lack of rain and the crops all burned out, the Texas Towers a sight to see, the off shore oil wells and the radar towers along the continental shelf to detect approach of aircraft.

Coming back by National Airlines, Mrs. Allen left at 5:40 in the afternoon, arriving at West Palm Beach at 11:22 p. m. on her first plane trip. It was the most wonderful ride I've ever had she stated and believe me, the National Airlines is for me in the future.

GIVE AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Shell engineer uses stethoscope to help detect noise the ear alone can't hear. Super Shell fights three different engine noises to give you top performance.

How 3 of Super Shell's 9 ingredients fight engine noise—including one hard-to-hear form of knock that could lead to real damage

SHELL scientists will tell you that any good gasoline should reduce engine noise. That's why they include no less than three noise-fighters in Super Shell's 9-ingredient blend. Here's how they work to help give you a soft-spoken engine—
and top performance.

How Super Shell fights high-speed knock

High-speed knock makes a sharp, high-pitched noise—like metal tapping against metal. Because it's most likely to occur in hot engines at turnpike speeds, high-speed knock is often difficult to hear.

But even though you may not hear it,
high-speed knock can pound away at pistons—even lead to costly damage.

Fortunately, high-speed knock isn't too common. But Shell scientists have known about it for a long time. Ever since they pioneered the development of a substance called Alkylate to help control high-speed knock in aircraft engines. Today, Alkylate is an ingredient in Super Shell gasoline.

How Super Shell fights wild ping

Wild ping doesn't last long. It sounds like the erratic beat of a nervous drummer.

This clatter is actually a series of premature explosions. They're caused by glowing deposits that ignite the fuel too soon.

Super Shell's famous TCP* additive tackles this problem. It acts to "fireproof" deposits that might glow. Result: chance of wild ping is greatly reduced.

How Super Shell fights ordinary knock

Most people have heard ordinary knock.
It may sound to you like marbles dropping into an empty oil drum.

Super Shell's anti-knock mix is so powerful that a teaspoon per gallon is enough to raise anti-knock rating a full five points.

This anti-knock mix helps regulate the combustion of Super Shell. Thus, each piston gets a firm, even push. Not a sharp, jarring jolt.

Now, read how the other six ingredients in Super Shell's 9-ingredient blend help you get top performance.

How Super Shell's other ingredients help you get top performance

Cat-cracked gasoline helps your engine deliver smooth, even power.

Gum preventive helps keep carburetors
clean inside.

Platformate is for extra mileage.

Butane is for quick starts.

Pentane mix is for fast warm-ups.

Anti-icer (added in cold weather) helps check carburetor icing.

Try a tankful of Super Shell today.
Then, you'll know what top performance feels like.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2,932,112.
